Friendly Thoughts By H. H. Robillard

A man can be faithful to his own best-interests by being zealous of the interests of others. It is the way friendships are earned and they are life's greatest rewards. Friendships are of immeasurable value.

Each director owes it to himself and his profession to conduct a ceremony with becoming decorum and at a price within the reach of those who commission him.

Answers to Problems

1. 4,947.04 barrels. Explanation - Square root of 18 and multiply by 4,448. Then multiply by 50 and divide by 100.

2. 22,125 miles per hour. Explanation - Divide .960 by 99 (the number of minutes in an hour) and then divide the result by .34.

3. 94.55 pounds. Multiply 7.25 by .16456. Explanation - Subtract the product of 16456 and .22 from the product of 16456 and .22. Then divide the remainder by .16456. Divide the numerator (1) by the denominator (3) of the fraction.

FIRE PREVENTION

With Fire Prevention Week to be held this year between October 9 and 15, the forces of publicity are being nationally broadcast in the effort to again awaken the country to the urgent need for greater fire protection.

In spite of the years of carefully prepared propaganda, the National Fire Prevention Association states that our per capita losses are eleven times that of Europe, and that despite advice to the contrary, many fires are still caused because people continue to throw lighted matches and live cigarette butts in waste baskets, dump hot ashes into wooden boxes, start fires with gasoline and kerosene, tamper with electrical wiring and indulge in other careless practices. As has contemporary phrases it, while the large proportion of wooden buildings is always advanced as one cause of our excessive fire loss, a more plausible theory is the prevalence of wooden heads.

Although the observance of Fire Prevention Week is of national importance, fire prevention is distinctly a community responsibility and when ever real progress has been made it is because individual communities have taken up the idea whole-heartedly and have done more than merely talk about what a good idea it is.

Elmhurst is constantly increasing both in size and population, and obviously there is an increasing need for greater fire protection. Whether our fire fighting facilities are adequate is a question for expert definition, and one worth not merely passing attention, but a constant consideration.
Doubtless the authorities do give the matter such consideration and yet, in view of the wide spread activities of the national body devoted to fire prevention matters, it would seem that there are many ways in which the subject of fire prevention could be advanced.

The formation of a safety council composed of members whose work and experience are closely allied with fire prevention methods (and Elmhurst fortunately numbers a great many residents affiliated with safety organizations and insurance companies) would be a progressive measure and not so difficult to achieve. Such a council could meet periodically and view the local situation in its broader aspects, recommending from time to time necessary corrective measures.
It could conduct a constant campaign of publicity devoted to developing a public attitude toward safety measures that would result in a general feeling of responsibility, and should reduce the tendency to carelessness that is the greatest of the causes of fire. The appointment of such a council would do more to bring home the lessons of Fire Prevention Week than anything else, and would develop a general and intelligent interest in them, that is nearly probable under the present year national campaign.

"PROFESSIONAL" SPORTS
As an aftermath of the Tunney Demsey fight there were those who bet that it was "crooked." They were convinced it was "fixed" and are sure at everyone connected with the affair.

Even the sporting editors who are close to such things admit they do not know whether the big fights are straight or "fixed" but from the way the gamblers are known to manipulate horse races, wrestling bouts and other professional events they are suspicious of the fighting game.
The strange thing is that so many men are ready to bet in spite of the fact that they have a strong suspicion the event may be crooked.

The big gamblers play for the big bouts and the ordinary fans—the real sport lovers—suffer because of the manipulations behind the scenes.

Many men cannot enjoy any sport unless it is seasoned with a bet but for the sake of the popular sports which play such an important part in the life of the nation it is to be deplored that betting offers such great temptations to the promoters and contestants.

Men make opportunities. Those who don't fish or play golf or burn gas find something else to lie about.

An English historian announces that women uses cosmetics in the middle ages.

ONE DEAD AND FAMILY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Touhy Avenue and Mannheim Wreck May Take Three Deaths
—Demand Safety

The death specter which haunts over the Mannheim Touhy "ugly corner" intersection has again struck out the victim of tragic death. This morning a man and his wife and three children were added to its record death total which has branded this corner as the most dangerous in the county.

Mrs. John J. Schreider, 2524 West North avenue was instantly killed, her husband is lying in his home today in a serious condition and both of their two sons were slightly injured and the three of an entire family were jeopardized, being hurt so seriously that their lives are in serious danger. The remaining member of the family, who was riding in the car which they were driving collided at Mannheim road and Touhy avenue, near Des Plaines, Sunday afternoon.

According to the testimony presented at the corner's funeral at Oehler's funeral home Monday, the smashup occurred when the auto, which had been driven by Mr. Schreider, failed to stop at the railroad stop sign on Touhy and crashed into the side of a Peacock sedan, driven by Herman Verreyne. The Peacock was also traveling west on Touhy while Verreyne was driving north on Mannheim.

The Schneider car which sideswiped the other in an attempt to avoid the crash was out of the way and drivers of the Peacock and the Peacock's passenger, Mrs. Richard J. Roth, president of the seventh district, presented at the funeral. The accident was caused by a collision with the side of America's "Beau Geste," led by Mrs. J. G. McArthur. The balance of the morning was given over to the services of the deceased, which concluded at 25 minutes.

At the afternoon meeting report were given by the various claimants of the accident, who were present and a number of other committees. A committee of members of the Elmhurst Y. M. C. A. and the Elmhurst Fire Department, headed by Harold F. McArthur, C. Arthur Dowell Jr., George Laube and Ralph Pasco suggested numbers which were well received by the public.

Announcement was made at the afternoon meeting that the Peacock would be used as a junior high school for the institution. Announcement was also made of the regional conference to be held October 28.

At the conclusion of the services the road which had been closed by the police was once more driven into the ditch which had been dug by the road crew and was well dried out.

In the car which was driven by the widow were her daughter Martha and a nephew, A. Roth, 231 North Avenue. The auto had been severely cut and suffered a possible skull fracture.

Today is the third anniversary of the fatal accident which took the life of Evelyn, 17,
