ST. JOHN'S CHURCH WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO OLD MEMBER

Sunday Service Fulfills
Old Promise to
Karl Mech

RARE CONCESSION!

Plans have been completed for the program, specially arranged to observe Karl Mech's 100th birthday, next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church. Two ministers will take part—the Rev. Otto A. Groth, pastor, and the Rev. Walter C. Wangerin, who served the church for twelve years preceding 1930, and is now pastor of Trinity, in Grand Rapids, Mich. He will deliver the address in German, while Pastor Groth will conduct the English service.

Rarely does the Lutheran church ever deviate from its established service to honor a single individual. Exception is made this time for "Papa Mech," who is a charter member of the congregation and more than faithful in attendance at the service. More than this, he had obtained a promise from both pastors that if he reached his cherished objective in celebrating one hundred years of life, they would take part in a church program honoring it. This promise will be fulfilled in the meeting Sunday.

The service will follow the usual with the exception of the pro-

Joshua Reade Almost Reached The Coveted Goal—Others
Are On Way

Only once before in the history of Lombard has one of its residents approached the century mark in years. Joshua Torrey Reade died February 14, 1929, lacking less than six months of arriving at the age of 100.

He lived for many years with his daughters, the Misses Alice and Christina Reade at the 15 West Maple street address, just around the corner from his little room in First church where he founded and carefully labeled and loaned out the volumes of the church library.

At the death of his close friend and associate, Col. Wm. R. Plum, some two years previous to his own passing and the subsequent establishment of the Helen M. Plum memorial library, Mr. Reade's cherished volumes were transferred to the Plum home to take their place alongside of the Colonel's own large collection and subsequent additions by the library board.

HENRY BANDAR, 91, IS NEXT OLDEST

As far as The Spectator has been able to learn, the nearest living applicant, in addition to Mr. Mech, to centenarian honors is Henry Bandar, father of Mrs. William Marsneck, residing at Columbine and Crescent boulevard who celebrated his 91st birthday on Christmas day. Mr. Bandar is a native of Latvia, having come to this country in 1912 to the home of his daughter, then living in Chicago. The subsequent turmoil at Franklin Delano Roosevelt, 31st president of the United States, wrote a personal letter of felicitation to Herr Karl Mech, who was born 100 years ago when Andrew Jackson was serving as this nation's seventh president.

At that time Lombard was emerging as a community from the depths of Babcock's Grove, a name shared jointly by both Lombard and Glen Ellyn.

DuPage county was still a part of Cook 1839 being the date of its organization as a separate county.

Chicago, two years previously, in 1832 had been incorporated as the town of "Chicago." In 1840 the "town" had a population of 4,470.

Illinois, admitted to the Union as a State in 1818, was functioning under its third governor, Joseph Duncan, who served from 1834 until 1838, during which time the State capital was established in Springfield, and the new $15,000 State house built in Vandalia, was abandoned.

November 8, 1838, the first locomotive in Illinois was run over the Northern Cross railroad.

One hundred years come next Saturday, on January 26, 1835, a son was born in a humble home in the country then known as Pommern, what we now know as Pommern in Germany. The nearest town was called Lambrecht, after the landowner whose fields were cultivated by tenants, who with their families were snipped in the nearby church of Gross Jadowitz. To this church came the parents of Karl Mech to have their son christened. Later, when he had studied his catechism faithfully, he received the rites of confirmation in the faith of his fathers, and still later, he was married to Albertine Blum, who also had been born and brought up in the same community and church.

For 35 years Mr. and Mrs. Mech lived the frugal, hard-working life of the people. Three children were born to them.

Frederick William the Third was king of Prussia and in 1806, during the revolution—fore-runner of the many years of warfare that harassed the fatherland. In June, 1871, the Franco-Prussian war broke, and Karl Mech was destined to change his citizenship. So in the Mech's with their goodbye to their native land, they set sail for the United States.

ENTERED BLACK VISITS OLD FRIENDS

With a party that only a few close friends of her could attend, Miss Helen Roush, who until she became and gave a distinguished newspaper woman was a guest in Lombard last week. Trying for a play before her country by a club house, she is Mrs. Martha Sweet Hamilton, better known to Lombarders as "Widow Black" and remembered by many old time citizens as one of the talented daughters of General Sweet, who with his family lived in Lombard following the close of the Civil War.

Guest in White House

Three year Mrs. Rosewood as "first" played an innovation. She had a reception in the White House during the hours of the Gridiron festivities, in which the women of the

Draws in Washington

Thus it was that Mrs. Hamilton, who herself is a guest in the White House, escorted there by Kinross Patterson, formerly of Chicago, and was the editor of the Washington Star, a prominent figure in the political and social life of the city. Much to her surprise, Mrs. Hamilton was called by Mrs. Roosevelt to make her contribution to the evening's entertainment which she did in the form of a witty speech. Her guests included Mrs. George H. Adams, a sister of Mrs. Hamilton, who died some years ago and was the first woman commissioner for the United States, receiving her appointment from President Grant. At one time Miss Adams Sweet and her sister occupied rooms in what was then the Deacon Clubing room on the house on 31st Charles road now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Frank Lester. The Clubing house was one of the centers of Lombard's social and cultural life, and Mrs. George Hamilton's recollection of the social life of the city is a most interesting one to which she was listened after coming to Lombard as a bride from her native home in England. There was Jimmy Hamilton, famous orchestra out town Chicago for the dancing, and Mrs. Hill with gusto of the satisfaction she had in wearing her white knit gloves to a real party.

Anonymous As Writer

Besides being a regular editorial writer for the Hearst papers, Mrs. Hamilton has done much other writing of stories and books. She has long been a personal friend of the Hearst family, and Mr. Hearst personally supervises arrangements for her traveling comfort. By reason of impaired eyesight, her contact consists of a personal attendant, who greatly enjoyed her brief stay in Lombard and her friends look forward to her visits with the utmost pleasure.

SILVER TEA WITH SUNSHINE CIRCLE

Members of Sunshine circle, Westmore M. E. church are lustily engaged with plans for a silver tea to be held next Wednesday afternoon, January 30, in the home of Mrs. E. W. Mrs. Robert P. Massey is arranging a well-planned vocal program featuring Mrs. A. E. Hagen, Mrs. Delmar Jacobson and Mrs. Harold Schneider in vocal solos. Mrs. E. J. Cunniff, known professor of the Belmonte Play, will be heard in several piano numbers while Mrs. John Blane and Mrs. Massey will render a piano duet. Miss Shirley Koch of Oak Park will present several readings. It is hoped that the P. T. A. Mothers will take part in the program, also little Miss Patricia Steel, in a dance number.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 20.

The Golden Text was, "The life was manifested and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life which was with the Father and was manifested unto us" (1 John 1:2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "My son attend to my words, incline thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart from thine eyes, keep them in the midst of thine heart. For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh. Keep thy heart with all diligence: for out of it are the issues of life" (Proverbs 4:20-23).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Unless the harmony and unity of man are broken, more apparent, we are not getting the true idea of God, and the body will reflect what gives us it, whether it be truth or error, understanding or belief, spirit or matter. The reformer acquaint now thyself with Him, and be at peace. He is within, subtle and vigilant. The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life" (p. 324).

This cold snap makes folks wonder if they have enough of that good Chicago Solvay coke to keep them from freezing clear through the winter. Don't need to wonder—we can make a close estimate for you of how much you will need yet to insure you all against such a calamity.

"Is my husband at the club?"
"No Ma'am."
"But I haven't told you who I am."
"Yes, but they hasn't nobody's husband here, never."

The Federal Housing Activity was no flash in the pan. The program is still on, and there are plenty of people in this vicinity, who need to take notice of it. Financing is easy for all worthy projects, and there are plenty of properties needing attention.

Style Parade, Music, Cards, Collection All To Benefit Optical Fund of Junior Women

Dorothy Donovan, Adeline Korman, Carolyn Mason and Louise Jackson members of the Junior Women's club who will appear among the models at the fashion show next Monday night in Masonic hall were featured in an impressive four-column picture in last Sunday's Tribune with a flattering notice concerning the upcoming exhibit.

The style parade will combine the display of exclusive costume from the Phoenix dress shop in Lombard and luxuriant furs from the Evans collection in Chicago. All will be modeled by local models and musicians. In addition Mrs. Payne is arranging the musical program, with Dorothy Grant concert pianist and member of the Chicago Symphony college faculty and Joe Elson, a famous first violinist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Then the guests will enjoy cards with handsome awards for fortunate players, dancing and appetizing refreshments. One ticket is but priced at two-hits entitles the holder to all this entertainment plus a chance at valuable door awards. The proceeds will be used for the $50 fund which Junior Women have pledged for the optical care of needy Lombard school children.

Everyone is welcome and the girls are hoping for a record-breaking crowd. It promises to be one of the brilliant affairs of the season.

Listed among the attractive young women who will model the costumes are Jane Ethel Goodwin, Helen Genovese, Margaret, Lois Wilson, Althea Eckart, Carolyn Mason, Sylvia Asher, Alma Eckart, Joan Ryan, Mary Ida Humphrey, Louise Jackson, Helen Ryan, Harve Potter, Dorothy Donovan, Betty Slavson, Janice van Hoes, Mildred Dolcher.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SCOUT COUNCIL IS NEXT SUNDAY

The annual meeting of the DuPage Area council, Boy Scouts will be held on Sunday afternoon, January 27, at 2 p. m. The meeting will be at the Ardmore school in Villa Park. This is the one big meeting of Scouts held by the DuPage council. This year they are meeting in the southern part of the county and the work in 1934.

This year's meeting will be an attempt on the part of the Scout organization to picture the work done by the Scouts and the Scouts. Two programs will be used to picture the progress of a boy through Scouting and also the work done by the men of the organization.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by one of the Scout bands of the Area. In addition Troop 51 of Lombard will present one scene from a musical play which pictures Scout work.

During the meeting Eagle badges will be awarded to several boys and the certificates earned at the recent University of Scouting will be presented. Each district will be represented by its official members as well as Scouters and parents of Scouts.

The officers for the coming year will be elected. A nominating committee has been making a careful canvass and the officers nominated will be well qualified for their positions.

The DuPage council held its winter rally at the Wheaton high school Monday night. Despite the weather there was a large and enthusiastic turnout. Music during the evening was furnished by the 41 Elynn Scout band.

The winners were Troop 41 Elynn in inspection, Troop 42 Villa Park in equipping, Troop 75 Kinross in drill, Troop 35 Wheaton in fire-friction, Troop 42 Glen Elynn in knotting, and Troop 82 Villa Park first aid. Lombard fared no better than second and third in several of the events.

Troop 75 won drill last year and repeated this year with a marvelous team drilled by Bobby Benson. Troop 43 also won first aid for the second time. This was the best first aid contest ever run by the DuPage council. The judging for the seven events was handled by the Scoutmasters.

Announce Date For Annual Police Banquet

The date for the second annual dance and entertainment sponsored by the DuPage County Police Association, Henry J. Benishaw, chief police, Hinsdale, president, has been definitely set for Saturday evening, March 2, at the McKinstry club.

BALLOT RECOUNT AT COUNTY SEAT NOW HALF OVER

Halfway point was reached yesterday in the recount of ballots cast last November for Arthur L. Helyer and John F. Hesterman for the office of county treasurer. The actual recount is proving a hum-drum affair at this stage, casting no light on the probable outcome of Hesterman's challenge. The tallying is expected to continue through most of next week.

With the naming of a second group of tellers, Judge Win G. Knoch moved proceedings into the board of supervisors' room across the hall and divided his listeners according for final adjudication such ballots as are contested in the successive precincts. An adequate staff of "watchers" representing both sides of the dispute is on hand at all times.

A second team was named Friday morning and began activity just before noon. The members are E. G. Vencard, Downers Grove, and C. M. Gilchrist, Naperville, for the democratic side of the controversy and Victor W. Gustafson of Wheaton and C. A. LePage, Glen Elynn, for the republicans.

Progress on the recount is slow due to the infinite amount of detail required. As each bag of ballots is brought from the vault where it has been carefully guarded since being received at the courthouses it has to be identified by a judge or clerk of the district from which it came.

Procedure Tedious
After having been identified it is opened by the county clerk and the various contents—ballots, envelopes, tally sheets, etc., also have to be identified. When this has all been done and the count reporter has added several pages of notes to his record Judge Win G. Knoch instructs the official tellers to break the seals binding the ballots, to count them, segregate them into "straights" and "spits" and then make a tally.

No final results have been reached in any of the districts thus far checked in the present activities, being to separate all ballots concerning which there is any objection by either party. After these ballots are removed for safe keeping the checkers count and tally the remaining ballots, tie them together, properly seal and replace them in the ballot bags.

In all districts the candidates have both lost votes due to challenged ballots but there has been no decided advantage either way. Only at such time as the court makes final decision concerning the validity of the challenged ballots can it become known whether gains or losses are being registered.

Masonic Lodge Here Starts New Year

The first meeting of the year under the rule of the new officers was held Tuesday evening, January 15. It was one of unusual interest and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

There was an exceptionally large membership attendance and many visitors, giving much encouragement to the incoming officers. Refreshments were served after the closing and a pleasant evening passed into history.

On February 5 Lombard Lodge will introduce a new Masonic program. Members are requested to be present and Masons of other lodges living in Lombard are cordially invited to attend and learn their part in this program. Further notice will be given again but try to keep that night open. Refreshments and an enjoyable evening are promised.

Lincoln Mothers Hear Educational Experts

"The basis of conduct" was the topic ably discussed by Miss Jane Staudt, dean of women at Elmhurst college, appearing last week before a joint meeting of the separate Mothers' Clubs of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades at Lincoln school. The hostesses— the third grade mothers—were properly appreciative of the kindness of the other groups in attending the lecture.

Second grade mothers have responded with an invitation to the other groups to be their guests in the kindergarten room at the school Tuesday afternoon, February 5, when Mr. Bester, principal of Glenbard will address the gathering on "School Administration." In order to attend, the 3rd grade mothers have abandoned plans for a bridge party previously arranged for the same date. Their next regular meeting will be in March.

Frank Cone, Tom Scott, Mrs. Gordon (Yvette Yvet), June O'Connor, Caroline Hilton, Susanne, Margaret Grafon, Clerk of the Court, Betty Lou Harmon, Spectators at the Trial, Rachael Rayner, Robert Corbett, Margaret Rawson, Jane Schock, Grace Marquardt, Virginia Dixon, Lucile Roof, Therese Landbeck, Botwell Genter, Annabelle Von Esh, Hamilton Bradshaw, Betty Victor, Jane Keil, Marjorie Stevens, Virginia Ross, Marian Vodka, Junior Hagstrom, George Wyckoff, and Virginia J. GLENBARD LIGHTS STRETCH RECORD TO SIX IN A ROW

Glenbard high school lightweights secured their sixth victories over Riverside last Friday and Hinsdale Tuesday to keep intact their perfect record in the West Suburban conference basketball race. The heaviest on the other hand, lost a one point decision to Riverside and then were set back by Hinsdale 21 to 13.

In stretching their season's record to six straight victories and no defeats the lights rejoiced further Tuesday night. LaGrange administered a beating to the second place Downers Grove lights, who are now two games in arrears.

Two defeats in the last week virtually knocked the Green and White heavies out of the contending position in the league. They now have won two games and lost four, but they continue to give the leaders the hardest opposition. Downers heavies stepped into the league lead by defeating Riverside while Hinsdale was idle one game. That broke a three-way tie which had prevailed up to last Friday night.

The Glenbard teams play at Moline this Friday night.

Quarantine Curtails Birthday Celebration

By reason of an authoritative looking sign tacked on the door announcing quarantine, the birthday festivities honoring the 70th birth anniversary of Mrs. Charlotte Nichols Cornhus were necessarily confined to the family group.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols died within the same year, the former at the age of 82, the latter at 79, and both enjoyed unusual health and mental alertness as was evidence by their daily trips to Chicago, which they continued until the short illness which preceded death. Mr. Nichols was the owner of a lucrative jewelry business, having occupied the same location at State and Madison for more than forty years and Mrs. Nichols assisted him in the clerical end of the work.

there will be less criticism of the results in the future.

What the critics of the caucus want is better representation and more of a chance to make a selection of candidates. When one slate is presented to the voters by the caucus, what is the need of an election? Certainly there are enough good citizens in Hinsdale to nominate so that if a voter does not favor a certain candidate he can vote for someone else without having to cast his ballot without adhering to the recommendation of the caucus.

The caucus has improved the village and we feel that it will also want to improve itself.—HINSDALE DOINGS.

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER PERMITTED

A few months ago a great passenger liner burned at sea, with a loss of life totalling about 150. Recently crack Canadian passenger train tore onto a siding and telescoped a "holiday special." A score of people died.

Each of these tragic incidents was headlined in newspapers throughout the civilized world. Millions of people were literally horror-stricken. Public and private bodies immediately started inquiries in an effort to fix the blame and punish those who are guilty. The whole force of public opinion, backed by the authority of the law, determined that everything be done to make certain that there would be no more similar accidents. Yet those killings, horrible as they were, were infinitesimal compared with a form of accident which the public accepts with complete indifference—the automobile killings. Last year, incompetent, reckless or careless drivers and pedestrians accounted for a killing every 15 minutes, and an injury every 31 seconds. The year showed a record killing in the United States of 36,000 and an injury total of 1,000,000. Ninety per cent of automobile drivers are safe, careful and competent. Ten per cent are reckless, careless or incompetent. And that ten per cent menaces the lives, health and property of us all.

If one steamship accident or a bad railroad accident, killing comparatively few people, causes revolutionary legislation to protect the public, what should be the safety program resulting from 36,000 automobile killings in one year?

THE WEIGHT OF EVIDENCE

By E. Harland Shaw

THE CONSEQUENCE OF CREDIT INFLATION

Credit inflation consists, briefly, in the extension of current credit against non-current security. Readers of last week's column will recognize that bank loans based on mortgages, stocks, etc., which are not promptly paid off, are a form of credit inflation. It is one thing to borrow money from a building and loan association, insurance company or the like, which has to get the money somewhere, and another thing to borrow it from a bank, which merely manufactures it in the act of giving the credit. Therefore bank borrowing is a form of credit extension which always has to be watched most closely.

An excellent example of this occurred in the war time. We thought ourselves getting rich during the war. In reality we were impoverishing ourselves. We borrowed money from our own people to lend to the allies to pay our people for goods. We really borrowed from ourselves, and increased our productive capacity beyond all ordinary reason to supply the demand created by this was collected by one truck of a local coal company during the steel storm a week ago Wednesday. They must have made allowance. They reported it, didn't they?

"LEAD-ALL SOCIETY"

Messrs. Tony D'Ambrase, Frank Barth, Geo. Scheppech, Fred Mack, Elmer Spreberg, Johnny Weiner, Fred Ryan and Oscar Graber have been fairly busting to get into print the last three weeks. They organized a weekly pinochle club, and their ambition is to take in all Thursday night bridge widowers. Tony and Geo. are the present t. p. leaders.

borrowing. The means were just the same as those used in the late boom decade, except that government bonds instead of mortgages were taken to the banks as collateral. These bonds are no more "current assets" than any other such piece of paper. The money and deposits which were created upon them as security were faithfully maintained as were nearly all the rest of like character until in March, 1933, we found we were frozen solid and couldn't liquidate. Then came the moratorium.

This is aside from the incidental but very painful result that a great deal of our food and clothing production had to be liquidated in the year following the war, and the farmers and cattle raisers felt the full force of this deflation.

In time of war, the effects of credit inflation are largely obscured, and become evident as in this case later. In peace time the effects are visible more promptly. In either case the producer is the first to feel them. He begins to find that others are allowed to get money and bank deposits without earning them in the sense that he has. What he labors by the sweat of his brow to produce, others get by a wave of the hand or a signature on a piece of paper. "New "savings" are created, secured by the substance of those already spent or never to be earned. Financial stresses and strains are set up that at a later date endanger the financial and social fabric of the nation. Wealth appears to increase greatly -- for some.

The banks finance a growth of city real estate with celebrated consequences for both the banks and the real estate. City property changes hands at rising tempo and prices. For the time being, John Townsman seems to be on top of the world. This is the first and most conspicuous result of credit inflation. It deprives the producer of his rightful importance in the community.

Community's Activities Change

This leads promptly to a qualitative change in the community's activities. Exchange of goods and services on the basis of ability to produce and to add to food, clothing, shelter and leisure gives way to purchase of those items on the basis of ability to command them. As the expanding circles of unchecked credit widen, an more and more people benefit from it, their increase-purchasing power tends to go into luxuries.

HINSDALE STICKS TO CAUCUS PLAN

At the outset we want to say that the article which appeared in the DOINGS last week concerning the community caucus has caused considerable comment along various lines. The article was not written to degrade anything the community caucus intended to do. There is a difference between criticizing effort and calling attention to results attained.

When the community caucus was organized, the editor of the DOINGS co-operated with Walter Fetzer, chairman of the caucus, by providing the names of all the organizations in the village. Mr. Fetzer and other officers devoted a great deal of valuable thought and effort in a preliminary effort of the caucus.

But naturally, every organization of a political nature, or having anything to do with politics, is subject to criticism that is sometimes harsh.

Because it is a community effort and not a political party or group, the DOINGS is vitally interested in the caucus, concerning which some of our readers find no good and others find no evil.

Whether the community caucus is good or bad, the political situation in Hinsdale is at a very high standard and the good characteristics of the caucus are reasonable.

If nothing else, the caucus has practically done away with the mudslinging tactics which started to grow in Hinsdale a few years ago. The caucus has given us intelligent, loyal and ambitious citizens as community leaders. The Village of Hinsdale and the public schools are gone through the terrible depression and emerged in much better shape than those in other towns.

Notwithstanding these deserved "bouquets," however, the community caucus has had criticism of the results attended by it. These criticisms are worthy of consideration, too.

The name "community caucus" should mean a caucus for the community. But when a nominating committee or a group that is only a part of that caucus controls the entire caucus, then the organization is not for the community. Experience has revealed that the caucus in the past have been guided to a great extent by all groups or "cliques."

Building permits for year 1929 decline over preceding year. Total of 110 new buildings; permits amount to $467,947. Notable new buildings include Park Manor fire station and National Tea store.

Town of York's assessed valuation for 1929 totals $23,502,223 - an increase of more than a million dollars over 1928.

What we called for at the library - "Age of Innocence," "Awakening of Helena Ritchie," "The Brimning Cup," "Roast Beef Medium," "The Gentleman from Indiana," "First Violin."

Neighborhood Forum organized about a year ago, has notable gathering in Paul M. League home. Heirloom party hand woven coverlet of 1855 to silver toothpick of President Folk's administration, and many others. The Spectator approves of Neighborhood Forum - no dues and no don'ts.

"YOU CAN'T PRINT THAT"

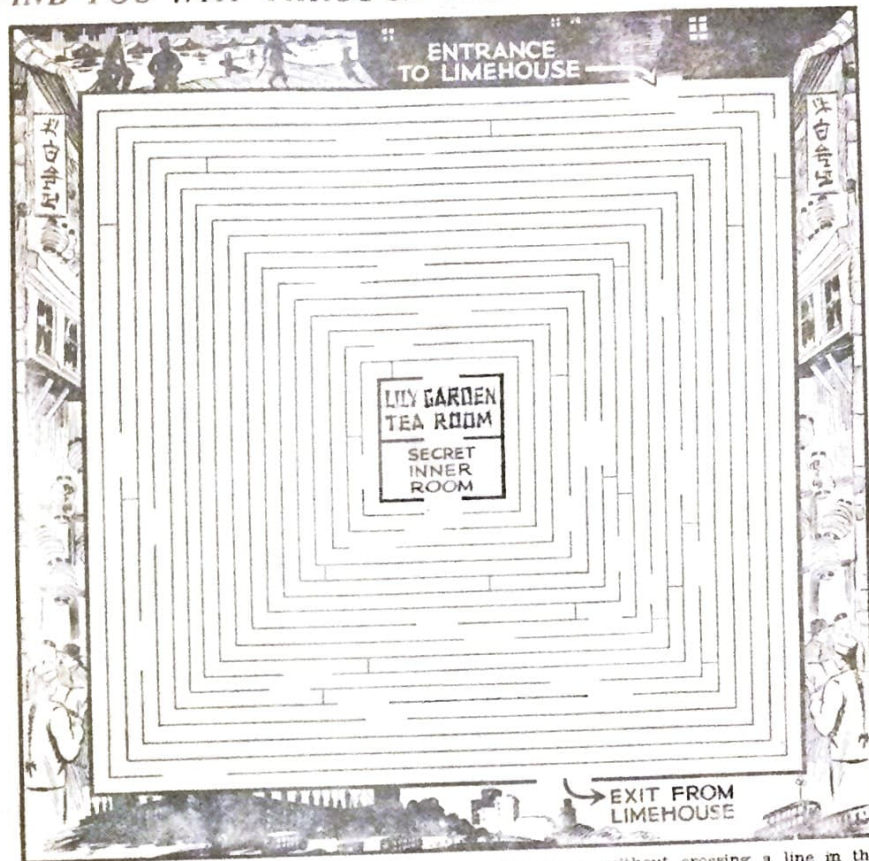

THE TRADE-IN-LOMBARD movement has received several recruits recently. Names are forbidden in this column, as a rule, so you'll just have to inquire around, but we have it on the Q. T. that the following have taken the pledge:

One local gentleman (and his wife) who laid in a stock of provisions in an enemy town while driving into the city, left their car unguarded at one point and the merchandise just naturally walked away and never came back.

About a week before that, a Lombard woman driver, east bound, gently nudged an electric stop sign at Villa Avenue in Villa Park. It snapped off, and the V. P. police dept. said, "48, please."

And then just before Christmas, a well regarded lady of our East Side fell into unpropitious hands after her car skated on the ice of York street, Elmhurst, and was stuck in a parked Elmhurst car.

'FIND YOUR WAY THROUGH LIMEHOUSE' - WIN A PASS

Find your way through Limehouse!
 Try it in this new puzzle - an intricate double maze with a confounding solution!

And you may win a prize for your efforts!
 This contest sponsored by the DuPage theater and is suggested by the forthcoming showing of Paramount's "Limehouse Blues," with George Raft, Jean Parker, Anna May Wong, Kent Taylor and Montagu Love. Directed by Alexander Hall, it comes Wednesday and Thursday to the DuPage theatre.

This puzzle conveys the atmosphere of that famous "Limehouse" of which the picture tells. Limehouse, you know, is London's underworld, a waterfront district of crooked streets and strange people. It has strange hidden places that are rarely seen by those who are not "regulars" in the district - and this puzzle tries to convey the labyrinthine quality of the torturous streets and hidden pathways.

You should start the puzzle by placing your pencil at the top opening, labelled "The Entrance to Limehouse." Then, without lifting your pencil from the paper, without crossing a line in this puzzle, trace an unbroken path to the top inner square, labelled "The Lily Garden Tea Room." Then go through the opening to the secret inner room and out the back entrance, tracing a new path to the opening that leads to the City of London.

But, and this is the most important, at no point may your pencil cross a line previously made, or retrace a path along such a line, or travel a path with a line previously made. In other words, your second course out of Limehouse, must travel an entirely new route.

When you have completed your two routes (which, remember, must not cross at any point, although they may use the same openings at times), send your puzzle, duly signed, to the Limehouse Maze Contest Manager care the theater, to reach not later than Monday, January 28, midnight.

The 50 neatest correct solutions received, will be awarded a guest ticket to see "Limehouse Blues." Watch the Spectator for the names of the winners and the picture of one of the winning solutions.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Bessie Pherigo, president of Auxiliary unit 391, American Legion, and Mary Asman, Harriette Brown, Vera Ellis and Margaret Deiles attended meeting of the DuPage County Council in Glen Ellyn on the 17th, the featured speaker being Dr. Read of the Elgin State hospital, who talked of the rehabilitation of mental cases from the time he entered the hospital, and showing moving pictures, telling the story of a particular case from the time he entered the hospital, and noting the progress of training in effecting a cure. A business session of the council preceded the lecture and there was an excellent representation of the membership from all over the county.

In the last regular session of the local unit action was taken endorsing the fourpoint legislative program of the American Legion, and pleading support of the Auxiliary in sending telegrams to congressmen. Plans were perfected for presenting a framed copy of the Federal constitution to Lincoln school. Ruby Mayer, county chairman of Americanism, talked on that subject and warned her fellow workers of the steady advance of communism in this country.

Women Voters' League Views Child Problem

"Responsibility of the Community for its Boys and Girls" will be the subject of an address to be given by Clifford Shaw in the meeting of the North DuPage group, League of Women Voters, this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Horace Lozier, 605 Hill avenue, Glen Ellyn. It will be an open meeting with fathers as well as mothers especially invited.

Mr. Shaw is director of the department of sociology in the Institute for Juvenile Research, and is conducting the work of the behavior research fund. He will tell of the results of a survey of home and environmental conditions, in different Chicago areas, which show that the behavior problems of children are but the symbols of the circumstances in which they live. His wide experience in helping to adjust the difficulties of the boys, and his sympathetic understanding of the problems of children will make the meeting one of deep interest—full of inspiration to parents and all those working with children.

Mech building. Otto K. Mech, another grandson, carries on the business founded by his father, Charles Mech. His two children are Louise and Charles.

Other grandchildren include Mrs. Roy Whipple of Elgin; Mrs. Mildred Meyer of Bartington; Mrs. Lucille Latz of Warrenville; Mrs. Effie Richter and Mrs. Harriet Bethka, both of Elmhurst. Among the 16 great-grandchildren are Betty Lou, Jean, Roy, Walter B. and Shirley Mae, children of Mrs. Whipple; Marga et, William, Geraldine and Helen Mae Mech, children of William, and Marilyn Carlson.

Consistent Church Member

Always a devout Lutheran, Mr. Mech is one of the charter members of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church in Lombard, and a regular attendant at Sunday morning services. He is looking forward with eagerness to the special program planned for him next Sunday morning by the pastor the Rev. Otto A. Groth, the choir director, Roy Kolzow, and the organist, H. W. Schreiber. Also coming for the occasion is the Rev. Walter C. Wangerin, a former pastor who served St. John's for many years, and who is now in charge of the church in Grand Rapids, Mich. Mr. Mech reads his Bible daily without the aid of glasses.

Asked the usual question as to what he attributed his long life, Mr. Mech was ready with his answer, to the effect that regular habits of living, simple food and plenty of hard work would do the same for everyone that they did for him. Lombard is willing to agree with him, and to do him full honors on his 100th birthday Saturday, when open house will be kept in the comfortable apartment at 14 West St. Charles road.

Lions Club Initiates Two New Members

Arthur J. Brehm, manager of Neill's drug store, located in the DuPage theater building, was formally initiated as a member of the Lombard Lions club at the regular meeting January 15. The Spectator "begs pardon" of both Mr. Brehm and the fellow Lions for overlooking this feature of an eventful meeting. Stuart DeLang, DuPage theater manager, also joined the club that night.

SOCIAL NEWS

UTILITY WILL MEET WITH MRS. KEILER

While the wintry weather last week necessarily limited the attendance at Utility's circle meeting in the home of Mrs. Roy O. Miller, West St. Charles road, the spirit of the gathering more than offset the smaller attendance. Following the business discussion, Mrs. Chauncey M. Briggs entertained at the piano with a choice selection of old-time music.

Mrs. Adeline E. Keiler, 48 North Main street, will be at home to the group next week Thursday, January 31.

BALLOU HALL SCENE OF DANCING PARTY

Fetching music provided by 5-piece orchestra, one of this season's innovations, made dancing a pleasure at Ballou hall last Saturday evening where members of a local social group were gathered for their first dancing party of the new year. The affair was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Landrud, 321 West Maple street. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Drimalia were to assist as hosts but were unable to come, their family being in quarantine.

CONTRACT FANS ENJOY SESSION

The impromptu little contract affair in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Lester Jones, 196 South Craig place, was quite as enjoyable as a long planned for event. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. George L. Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton H. Becker, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Starrett. Refreshments were served at a late hour and everyone expressed themselves having a happy time.
