APPELLATE COURT DENIES PREFERRED CLAIM OF VILLAGE

Individual Depositors Entitled to Equal Rights

TEXT OF OPINION

Village of Lombard lost another round in its fight to have around $43,000 of village money on deposit in the closed Lombard State bank changed as a preferred claim when the circuit court of appeals, sitting at Ottawa, denied the petition in an opinion filed May 5.

Here, in the appellate body was admitted by the village an appeal from a decision of the circuit court at Wheaton several months ago denying the preferred claim petition. John H. McVey, village attorney, handed both hearings for the village and Charles W. Bradley acted for the receiver and depositors of the bank. The appellate court merely affirmed the original decision.

Receiver Kinley and his attorney maintain on the other hand that there should be no preference for any individual or group of depositors, and with this view the two court opinions have agreed insofar as the facts in this case are concerned.

The new village board will have to decide on the question of further appeal to the state supreme court. Following is the text of the circuit court of appeals opinion:

In its brief and argument counsel of the Village of Lombard has emphasized considerably upon the status of the State to the effect that the

Mrs. Lane was about 60 or 65 years old, and was the mother of several children, all married. No further particulars are available at this writing.

Lombard People Asked to Divert Sales Tax Money to Local Benefits

It has been suggested that the State Sales Tax moneys collected by Lombard merchants from Lombard people, a collection which has been nullified by the action of the Illinois supreme court in declaring the sales tax law unconstitutional, be now turned over by the local merchants to local benefits as follows:

- To the Lombard Welfare society 50 per cent
- To the Lombard Lilac league 50 per cent

A large number of the principal merchants have already passed on the suggestion, and they are 100 per cent favorable to it. All customers may properly reclaim the amount they have paid, on proof of the amount due, but it is believed certain that many will be glad to have the total fund diverted to the above use. The people of Lombard are invited to consider this plan and act accordingly.

West Suburban Champs — Grieve Forced to Share Glory With Murray, Sophomore

By virtue of a sensational run by a Glenbard sophomore who was competing "just to get the experience," the Green and White captured first honors in the West Suburban conference track and field meet at Downers Grove Tuesday afternoon. The event had been postponed from the previous Friday.

Glenbard won the meet with a total of 42-1/2 points. York high was second with 29 1/2, and...

DROUGHT BROKEN! IT RAINED LAST NIGHT (THEY SAY)

For the second successive week Lombard's weather has continued as a favorite topic of comment even in the face of—and very much in conjunction with—talk of the great lilac pageant as the long rainy spell has converted gardens and lawns into lakes and caused all manner of annoyance to residents.

President Morgan Invites Callers

C. W. Morgan, newly installed village president, stated this week that for the convenience of those who may have official matter to discuss with him he may be found regularly in the village clerk's office in the village hall from 7 to 8 o'clock Wednesday nights. Since his election, Mr. Morgan has been putting in a considerable amount of time at the village hall "learning the ropes." The newly constituted village board will meet for the first time since its installation next Monday night.

PLANS COMPLETE

Lombard's fourth annual lilac pageant will definitely take place this Saturday evening, May 13, starting at 7 o'clock if weather conditions at that time permit. In the event of a forced postponement, the production will be staged at the same hour next Monday night or the earliest possible day thereafter.

So many considerations make necessary the holding of the festival according to schedule that it must go on despite the many doubts and questions that have arisen owing to the persistent wet weather and greatly retarded season.

More Than a Pageant
Vastly different than anything heretofore attempted, more colorful and greater in both its cost and the scope of action than has been possible before in the limited area of Lavinia park, the 1933 Lilac Pageant will be a guaranteed attraction to both young and old in men and women alike and to visiting folks just as much as to residents.

Far more than just a show for people to witness the pageant will occupy the short space of only an hour and will culminate in a brilliant carnival attraction in which part of the entire gathering will be called upon to mingle with the singing

...the village treasurer is the custodian of the village moneys and it was his duty to keep the money safely and pay it out upon appropriate warrants or orders. Common prudence would dictate the keeping of such moneys in a depository rather than in his personal possession, but the placing of such moneys in a depository is not a paying out of the funds within the meaning of the statute. The deposit of such moneys in this bank was merely for his convenience and its possession of such moneys is exactly the same as its possession of moneys of any other depository.

Comment is made upon the liability of the village but we do not regard this subject as an issue in this case. The sole and only question to be determined herein is whether or not moneys deposited by the village treasurer to his credit as such treasurer in the Lombard State bank constitutes a trust fund so that the treasurer of the village might be entitled to the allowance of its claim as a preference.

"Torchbearers" May 12 at Glenbard High

The "Torchbearers" by George Kelly, a satire in three acts will be presented by the senior class of Glenbard on May 12 at 8 p. m. in the auditorium.

This play has been characterized by critics as a brilliant satire. It has been quite popular with the little theater groups at which it pokes fun. Three characters form the pivot around which the play revolves—namely, Paule Ritter, Mr. Ritter, and Mrs. Pampinelli. These parts are taken by Marian Griggs, Robert Burns and Gwendolyn Hicks respectively.

The other members of the cast are: Beth Frye, Jane Frye, Paul Nelson, Edward Hickey, Bette Huria, Robert Johnson, and Elsie Cooper. The understudies are Dale Kuchenbecker and Gertrude Lovett.

This is the most difficult play the seniors have ever produced. Nevertheless, it promises to be very good.

The production staff that was made recently organized to take care of school function has charge. This staff consists of Irving Briggs, and Robert Darke, business managers; Donald Stewart, stage manager; Russell Von Esch, electrician; June Underwood, sound effects back stage; and Jessie McComb and Richard Rush, scenic artists. The staff is under the supervision of Helen Peck Allen, dramatics and public speaking teacher; Frieda Langstet Jensen, art teacher; Mr. Repke is house manager.

Posters by Mr. Medin Go On Display Here

Two beautiful posters emblematic of Lincantime in Lombard have been done in water colors by Charles B. Medin at the request of the Lincantime league committee. A third also prepared by Mr. Medin, has been set up in the lobby of the C. A. & E. loop terminal to remind commuters of the festival time here.

Mr. Medin, who is a commercial artist in Chicago, is one of the founders and foremost backers of the Lincantime league and served as secretary in 1931 and 1932. His first poster, completed last Thursday, depicts a striding minstrel, one of the characters in the 1935 pageant. The second poster, which was to go on display here today, betokens the lilac queen mounted on a white horse.

Mr. Medin's portrayal of lincantime in this delightful fashion has become a tradition to the season. The pieces require many hours in preparation, instancing just one of the many cases of hard effort that have made the annual lilac festival a unique event.

Former Sheriff of DuPage Co. Dies

The county board adjourned early Tuesday afternoon in order to attend the funeral of A. A. Kuhn, of West Chicago, former county sheriff and county clerk. Other county officers also left their desks long enough to honor one who served the county for many years.

WOODWORTH'S DAUGHTER

Dr. and Mrs. Philip R. Woodworth, 24 East View street, are receiving the congratulations of friends on the arrival of a daughter. Their second child, born to them in Washington Boulevard hospital, Chicago, Monday afternoon, May 8. The little girl weighed seven pounds and mother and baby are doing well.

...the five points contributed by young Mr. Murray. Bob Grieve, Lombard boy who is booming as a national sensation in the dashes, scored 11 points for Glenbard by winning the 100 and 220 yard sprints and helping to give Glenbard a third place in the 880 yard relay. He ran the century in 10 seconds flat and the 220 in 22.6, slow time for him, but the track was in no condition for record performance.

Grieve still has one big chance remaining, the state meet at Springfield May 20 and the entire conference will be pulling for him to set a new mark in the 100 yard dash on that date.

Other outstanding work by Glenbard boys included a first in the javelin by Reifenstein, second in the discus throw by Jauch, second in the 120 and also the 220 high hurdles by MacLeod, third in the shot put by Yardie, third in the 120 yard hurdles by Maier, third in the high jump by Kuoni, third in the broad jump by Anderson, fourth in the discus by Reifenstein.

Slance of Downers Grove set a new record in the shot put when he bettered his own previous high mark by pushing the weight for a distance of 47 feet, 6 inches. This was the only record cracking performance of the day.

Dale Osterling, another Lombard boy who had been regarded as a certain point winner, probably good for first place in the 440 yard run, hurt his leg in practice last week and was unable to compete. He hopes to be in shape for the state meet next week.

Last Saturday of May Poppy Day in Lombard

Women of the American Legion Auxiliary in Lombard will sell poppies from 6 to 9 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, May 25th, and all day Saturday, May 27. The Spectator regrets the error in the date carried in last week's headline.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World War dead will be made available to everyone in the village by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary who are under the supervision of Mrs. J. H. Sniffell, poppy chairman. The flowers for the sale have been ordered from veterans' hospitals, where they are made by disabled soldiers who receive five cents apiece for them. Proceeds of the Poppy sale are used for relief purposes by the Auxiliary. With the small sums gathered in on that date the local unit is able to scatter a little sunshine among the hospitalized men and their dependents. Think of this when a nice looking lady perhaps a Gold Star mother or sister, approaches you on the morning of the 25th or on Saturday the 27th, with the request, "Buy a Poppy, Please."

...chokehold a standard by every water.

Tuesday an all night rain built up a lake on far North Main street and many drivers after midnight of attempting to navigate without a compass went aground on one side of the concrete of the other. A huge five stock truck loaded with logs became mired in and after several hours the drivers paid a costly fee to summon a caterpillar tractor from Elmhurst and place it back on the main channel.

One of the best drained spots in the village is the new pageant field where the water has been carried off as fast as it fell, but there was no opportunity early in the week to continue the work of leveling off. However, the project has reached a stage from which one day of work will just about suffice to finish the improvement.

Through it all, the lilac buds and tulips in Lilacia have had a slow but definite development. Two days of warm bright weather will now be enough to bring out many of the earlier blooms, according to Supt. C. J. Hudson, Jr., and the rest will come on fast as soon as conditions are favorable.

Fire Wrecks Part of Auto Wrecking Plant

Fire of unexplained origin Tuesday afternoon caused the total loss of the main structure in the automobile wrecking plant on East St. Charles road owned by H. E. Bayless. The fire department answered a call to the scene, which is outside the city limits, at 11 a. m. and were recalled again in mid-afternoon when flames broke out a second time. To remove the hazard of the tile walled and roofed building it was levelled to the ground on the second appearance of the firemen.

Following the incident, officers of the department forwarded to the state fire marshal a report on the condition of the place. Five or six weeks ago, an agent of the state department ordered the owner to remove certain hazards and build a high fence along the south line of the property to screen its unsightly features from public view. Thirty days were allowed in which to make the changes, but no apparent action has been taken to this date, according to George Assman, newly elected chief of the fire department.

Business and civic organizations of the village made an unsuccessful campaign to have this place cleaned up prior to the influx of visitors here during lincantime.

Alarm at Maisel Home

Another fire alarm of the week summoned the department to the ...group of theaters including the DuPage Theater of Lombard, was instantly killed Monday night when a small car in which he and Mrs. Brockwell were driving on Mainheim road was struck with terrific force by another machine, proceeding west on Grand avenue. Mrs. Brockwell suffered only minor injuries.

For C. W. Leist, manager of the DuPage Theater, the death of his chief was a severe blow as it terminated a loyal friendship and business connection that had continued uninterrupted for the last 19 years. Mr. Brockwell was at one time associated with Adolph Zukor, film magnate, and during his relationship with Mr. Leist the two had had a hand in almost every branch of the theater and moving picture business.

In addition to the DuPage, Mr. Brockwell controlled the Tivoli at Downers Grove and a third movie playhouse at Rockford. Mr. Leist said that steps have already been taken to continue the operation of the theaters without any change in operating plan.

The driver of the other car that figured in the fatal crash abandoned his machine and escaped. License plates for the car had been issued to Ray C. Pattyn of Bensenville, who up until yesterday had been sought by the police without success.

Glenbard Board Holds First Session

Full term of school at Glenbard will open September 11, and teachers have been voted new contracts embodying a reduction in pay amounting to 20 per cent under the amounts now in effect by action of the board of education this week. Salary cuts at Glenbard during the last two years now total 31 per cent.

Committee assignments on the Glenbard board of education as now comprised have been divided as follows: parent cooperation, Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Jorgensen, building and grounds, G. G. Miller, insurance, C. J. Richardson, curriculum and library, A. M. Glahn, Margaret Lindsay was appointed secretary, but the board decided to abolish the position of attorney.

It was voted to ask bids for resurfacing the main driveway leading to the school, this having become badly pitted.

Fred P. Maisel residence on West Grove. An electric iron on an ironing board in the basement had been left turned on when the family departed for a short time that evening. It burned a hole in the board, causing a dense smoke, but the firemen found no damage other than that to the iron and board.

Street Dance in Everything. Harriet Taylor, the director, members of the committee and all interested have spent long hours preparing the costumes, accessories, pageant ground and in developing and rehearsing the pageant itself. For the last week, however, fully as much effort has gone toward a detailed planning of the general frolic which is immediately to follow.

An excellent orchestra has been engaged for the street dancing. Lights are arranged for, a dozen forms of refreshment will be offered at the hands of brightly costumed members of the cast. There are to be bonfire, stunts, etc. for the diversion of all so long as the party may last.

Every effort will be made to place the grounds in as desirable condition as possible. The area will accommodate almost as many as need be, and the spectacle, most of which is planned to take place before sundown, will be visible in clear detail from as far as the Main street side walk.

Adequate Policing

Chief of Police Hugo Carlson is arranging to handle street traffic with an augmented staff if necessary. George Assman, newly elected fire chief, will be in general charge of policing the pageant grounds, with a staff that will include members of the fire department, American Legion and the older group of Boy Scouts.

As the time of the pageant itself is so brief, seats will not be required for the majority, but a special committee will provide a limited number of closeup seats for older people, mothers with small children and others who may especially require them.

The cast of the pageant follows:

CAST OF CHARACTERS

- Merry—Mildred Fryer

APPELLATE COURT DENIES PREFERRED CLAIM OF VILLAGE

Individual Depositors Entitled to Equal Rights

TEXT OF OPINION

Village of Lombard last another round in its fight to have another $15,000 of village money on deposit in the Federal Reserve Bank denied its preferred claim when the circuit court of appeals sitting at Ottawa denied the petition in an opinion filed May 5.

Had the appeal the appellate body was refused by the village on appeal from a decision of the circuit court at Wheaton several months ago. In the appellate claim petition filed by Mrs. Lane, village attorneys handled both hearings on the village and a Mr. W. Dudley acted for the circuit and depositions of the bank. The appeals court merely affirmed the original decision.

Because Mrs. Lane and her attorneys maintain on the other hand that there should be no preference for any individual or group of depositors, and with this view the two court opinions have agreed inasmuch as the facts in this case are concerned.

The new village board will have to decide on the question of further appeal to the state supreme court. This is the text of the circuit court of appeals opinion.

In its brief and argument consist of the Village of Lombard has contended that the village is entitled to the right of the first refusal of the village money.

It is contended that the village is entitled to the right of the first refusal of the village money.

Comment is made upon the liability of the village but we do not regard this subject as one of the main ones.

The sole and only question to be determined herein is whether or not money deposited by the village trustees in its credit accounts is to be treated as a trust fund so that the treasurer of the village might be entitled to the allowance of its claim as a preference.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 7.

The Golden Text was, "O Israel, return unto the Lord thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity" (Hosea 14:1).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death" (Romans 8:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself unfallen, upright, pure, and free" (p. 171).

APPRECIATION

The Lombard beautification committee wishes hereby to express its most sincere and heartfelt appreciation to every citizen and organization of this, our fair village, who in any way gave his her or their assistance to make Lombard more beautiful.

Coming at a season when nature sheds her cloak of brown to meet forth in all her resplendent glory, your efforts added the finishing touch. You children, who have given of your playtime to help in the task of cleaning up vacant lots, have our utmost appreciation.

Never before has it been possible for any one civic organization to hope for such splendid cooperation, but the joined efforts of our seventeen largest organizations under the leadership of the beautification committee has been a magnificent achievement.

You citizens, who have set a new high standard of neatness and orderliness in the appearance of our entire village, have realized your obligation to your neighbors. Your reward is that great satisfaction which comes only from having done your share most cheerfully. You have set an example, carried the gospel of beauty into far corners, and stimulated others to do likewise.

Work of collecting and removing heavy and large pieces of waste material is still in progress and when completed, will be a great satisfaction to everyone.

We thank most heartily however, those fine men who gave so much of their time to the transformation of a swampy vacant lot, and veritable dumping ground, into a suitable site for a fine playground.

We are not unmindful of those of you men, who, though unempowered, showed your appreciation for our huge project by your unstinted cooperation. You have the courage of your conviction that it is important to give in return for what you receive. It is a testimonial of your fine character. Your reward will be greater than you know. When beautification is coupled with employment of otherwise idle hands, the projects become doubly worthwhile.

LOMBARD BEAUTIFICATION COMMITTEE

More than 3,000,000 Illinois people or a third of the people of the state directly or indirectly are actually dependent on the operation of Illinois utility companies exclusive of steam railroads, according to Attorney Harry J. Lathough, representing the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, the Commonwealth Edison Company and other utility organizations before the Illinois Commerce Commission last week.

Discussing the strenuous efforts being made to maintain the stability of the businesses in which a large proportion of Illinois citizens are interested, Mr. Lathough said. The utility companies I represent have effected dividend dividends. They have reduced the most drastic operating economies. While there is a great reduction in output, unfortunately that reduction in output in the past three years has not kept pace with the reduction in income. The revenues have fallen faster than we could reduce operating expenses.

"Ninety percent of the stockholders of these companies live in Illinois."

Paris physicians, a few years ago, ordered their insane patients to drink "Hot Blood" from slaughtered oxen. Now, sane patients are spared this ordeal as our physicians have discovered various treatments more pleasant as well as being more effective.

he said. "Take the Commonwealth Edison company, there are over 65,000 stockholders. A total of 55,000 live in Illinois. And the same is true of the 27,400 stockholders of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. And we have about an equal number of bondholders."

Also we have in the Public Service company nearly 3500 employees and in the Edison company over 5000 employees. In addition to that, there are over 97,000 people in the state whose livelihood indirectly depends on the operation of the utilities. These furnish appliances, make equipment and are in similar businesses.

There are over 50,000 people in Illinois whose earnings are invested in the securities of the Illinois utility companies, exclusive of steam railroads. These are men, women and children of these companies whose families are dependent entirely upon the companies. Asking them all to gather you will find roughly 50,000 people representing security holders, employees and other people dependent on the utility companies.

"What of those who have no investments in your utilities, that is, the average stockholder of three and one-half to the family, you will have over 1,000,000. This is one-third of the people in the state."

Art Club Keeps Busy At Varied Tasks

"Believe me, the Art Department is busy, I don't see how the school could get along without us!" said the vivacious Mrs. Jenkins when asked what her department has been doing lately.

Besides helping with the Latin Club programs, making four hundred Junior Prom programs, sponsoring the open poster contest, designing the stage setting for the Senior Play, making posters for the Glee Club concert, and preparing for the seasonal art exhibit, the art classes must get their regular work done.

The daily work is thoroughly as fascinating as the special projects. The first year art students are making wooden and stocking puppets and finishing interior decorating. The second year pupils are specializing in still life, water color and notebook work in architecture while the third year group are working on masks or theater work.

The Art Club gave an Open House at York, Friday, April 21. The same program will be given here at the next Open House.

DEPARTMENT PUBLISHES STUDENT-WRITTEN VERSE

Perhaps it's because of the spring-like weather, or maybe it's because Glenbard does have some future poets and poetesses. At any rate, the school is to have a poetry book of fifty selections, all of which have been written by students here during the last two years.

The Bard is the particularly appropriate title for the poems of students at Glenbard. The teachers in the English Department have selected the fifty best poems of all those that have been submitted. First, second and third places have been named, as well as several honorable mentions.

The names of the winners will be disclosed when the book is put on sale.

The subject matter ranges from humor to pathos.

The books to be sold for ten cents each, may be purchased in the halls sometime before the end of the school year.

Freshman parents and teachers met Monday evening, March 27, in the Glenbard Auditorium.

The Freshman Girls Glee Club sang five numbers: "Green Gables," "Night Shadows Falling," "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes," "A Gypsy Song," and "Barcarolle." W. J. Firby, head of the English department in Glenbard, spoke on "The Four Years of English in Glenbard." F. L. Blester, principal of Glenbard, talked on "The Cost of Education."

After the meeting had adjourned, the parents went down to the cafeteria to enjoy a glass of punch and to meet the teachers.

out of three debates, and therefore a point toward the winning of the cup which is awarded every year to the society having the most points at the end of the year.

The subject for debate was "Resolved: That the protective tariff should be abolished." George Lineburg, Kenneth Stalmsmith, and Robert Nichols, Erodolphians, upheld the affirmative; George North, Jack Greaves, and Chester LeVere, Atheneans, were the speakers for the negative; Charles Valette was chairman for the debate.

FRENCH CLUB ENJOYS TALK BY "WAR BRIDE"

Mrs. J. D. Westa, a "war bride" who came to the United States from France twelve years ago, gave an interesting talk in French at the French Club meeting in Room 312 last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Westa told about Malmaison, the home Napoleon bought for Josephine as a wedding present. Afterwards questions were asked her and she answered in French.

Helen Pares, the new president, gave a short talk, and the other new officers were introduced. Norman Logan and Louise Zander sang solos in French.

Refreshments of candy bars were served.

Students "Ring Bell" in Mock Election

Mock village elections held in Glenbard on election day, Tuesday, April 18, during section, proved an able forecast of the real elections, the results being the same.

George Jennings, Barbara's father, was re-elected president of Glen Elynn with Clint C. Hine, John D. Kemper, and Oscar E. Miller, father of Harry, all members of the Civic Betterment Party as trustees. Charles La Page was elected police magistrate.

In the Lombard elections, the Community ticket carried the vote with C. E. Morgan, Clinton's father, as president of the village board and A. J. Alderman, Clifford Schermerhorn, and H. P. Flint, father of Harold and Jane as trustees.

direction of Mr. Boyden and Mr. Mear, their respective directors, assisted by a few Glenbard players gave several numbers, in the first massed band attempted here.

The last election was directed by Mr. Baer, and the audience left feeling they had enjoyed a well-spent evening.

School Netmen Win Meet with Riverside

Glenbard's tennis team won its first match of the year last Tuesday, against Riverside High, at the Glen Elynn Memorial Park courts, by a margin of 4 matches to 1.

In the initial match Hitt of Glenbard had little trouble disposing of Southworth by a count of 6-3, 6-3. At the same time, Hynd was trimming Reinerston in two straight love sets, 6-0, 6-0. Grunert then lost Glens' only match when he dropped a three set go to Grear by 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

In the doubles, Blair and Bliss put Telzaff and Grear in the losing column when they won 8-6, 6-4. Reinking and Burke also took their doubles match by trimming Huby and Soderkolus of Riverside by a score of 6-1, 6-2.

Glen Places First In Music Contest

Glenbard won first place among Class A schools by earning six points at the District Music Contest, which was held at DeKalb, Saturday, April 22.

Jeanne Panot, a sophomore, won first place in the piano section; Merle Irish, a senior, earned second place in the cello division, and Dorothy Mackensen, a sophomore, placed third in the contralto group.

The two girls who won places in the piano and cello divisions will go to the final All-State Contest at Macomb, May 5.

Morton High of Cicero won second place, and Hinsdale, third place, in the District Contest, which included representatives of schools in nine and a half counties of northern Illinois.

There can be no doubt but that it is the business of the Lombard State Bank in its conduct of a banking business to receive deposits of money from its various patrons and to place the same to the credit upon its records of the various depositors, and in accepting deposits from the village treasurer the bank violated no law whatever so far as the records in its case shows. The mere fact that the moneys so deposited by such village of Lombard to his credit as treasurer were the property of the trust treasurer did not create the relation of trustee and cestui que trust but created merely the relation of debtor and creditor, that is to say, the village treasurer became a creditor of the bank, and the bank became a debtor of the village treasurer to the extent of the funds so deposited with it, but this relation exacted nothing more or less than the liability of the bank to pay out the moneys so deposited by such village treasurer in the same manner and to the same extent and upon the same terms as that of any other depositor.

In Woodhouse vs. Crandall 197 Ill. 104 page 109 the court in passing upon a similar question said: "In the case of a general deposit with a bank to the credit of the depositor, the relation created is not that of the principal and agent or of trustee and cestui que trust, but is merely that of debtor and creditor, and such deposits belong to the bank and become a part of its general funds and there is nothing but a liability as a debtor to repay according to the custom and usages of the business."

In People, etc. vs. Seward State Bank 268 Ill. App. 32 a very similar question was before the court. We hold that the deposits of moneys by a treasurer (such) in his official capacity as a subject to the same rules of law as relates to other depositors and upon the insolvency of the bank with which such deposits are made, he is not entitled to a preference, because of such official position, and such rule of law is applicable in this case. The mere fact that the treasurer of the village may be personally liable if such is the case, does not alter the character of a general deposit in a bank in any manner whatever.

It is asserted that the said bank did not give any bond to the village and that the village did not adopt an ordinance designating any particular depository of the moneys of the said village. Conceding this to be true, such fact is, in our judgment, immaterial to the issues in this case.

The decree of the Circuit Court of DuPage County denying the preference, but allowing the claim as a general claim is affirmed.

which have been seen in Chicago newspapers. Giving visitors an insight into the moving picture industry by allowing many of them to actually participate in contests and work involving the actual making of pictures figure prominently in the plans, Mr Webb says. He entertained a group of Glenbard seniors last Saturday who were interested in gaining positions there for the period of the Fair. Those from Lombard were Perry Joy, Francis Cook and Lee Moe.
