Town Hall Site Officially Dedicated with Big Crowd

On Monday after the dedication of the Mulholland new sub-division, the crowds were invited to proceed to the site of the new town hall for the purpose of dedicating the ground to the cause of civic government. The news cameras men struck advantage upon the occasion and proceeded to shoot the crowd, urged about to watch Mrs. Fred Mausel, the wife of our mayor, supported by the radials, May and June who had acted in a similar capacity just previously on the first street of earth. Mr. Mausel was called upon to say a few words which he did in his customary unpretentious convincing manner. I hope that city hall will be a monument to our town. We have worked hard for it and we have wanted it to be the best that could be had for our town and we do believe that we are not going too strong when we feel that it is going to be the most attractive town hall of any town west of Chicago. Perhaps you people from Chicago may not think it such a wonderful thing but for a village like Lombard we feel that it is quite a distinction to have achieved it. We want our town to stand for the best and we are all doing our utmost to bring that about. To so much of a speaker and so will not take up your time further but I do want to say thank you out of town visitors, the Chicago Federation of Labor, WCPFL, the radio stars, and all present in that on behalf of Lombard I wish it, thank you with us today. I hope they will carry away pleasant memories of our town, which is a home town and I know we are all going to carry with us when we listen in on WCPFL radio's program a far more distinct and pleasurable memory of May and June than we could possibly have done had we never had the opportunity of seeing them, and I wish to thank them for their courtesy in being with us today.

So now the patient houses and sweep shovels are gradually getting into the earth and will be going in before the foundation will be getting in.

Lombard Chapter O.E.S. has Banquet and Gala Night

On the occasion of the official visit of the Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois Ida M. Stacy, Lombard Chapter gave a banquet at the parish house on the evening of August 18 at which a notable gathering of members of the order were present, including Ida M. Stacy, Worthy Grand Matron and John F. Garner, Worthy Grand Patron.

After a course dinner was served, the members went to the Chapter room where the Worthy Grand Matron was welcomed by six sisters who displayed a large letter forming the word welcome.

Edward Meyers, Grand Sentinel and four Grand Representatives and a number of Worthy Matrons, Worthy Patrons Past Matrons and Past Patrons were introduced.

Members of Lombard Chapter and other O. E. S. members who missed this meeting will have an opportunity to meet the Worthy Grand Matron at Glen Ellyn's official visit to be held in Lombard Masonic Hall next Wednesday evening, August 31.

Hadley Boom Launched

The candidacy of Charles W. Hadley for attorney general was launched Friday night through the united efforts of the bench and bar and political leaders of six counties at a testimonial dinner given at the Meunah Country Club. The dinner was arranged by the Republican central committee, presided over by his experience and his acquaintance with the duties of the office of attorney general, speaking as follows:

The Attorney General is the chief law enforcing officer of the State and the enforcement of the law and the

of the rights of the people, which depends upon the experience and ability of the Attorney General.

For more than twenty years I have been engaged in the enforcement of the law. As State's Attorney of Du Page County, for nearly fifty years I was engaged in the enforcement of the law in that growing and populous County. Under Attorney General Brundage and Chairman had charge of the cause of great importance of turning the tide of the state of Illinois and to localities and municipalities therein, which were prosecuted since to successful conclusions. During these years I have become intimately acquainted with the duties and the work of the office of the Attorney General. I feel that my training and experience has been such that I am particularly qualified to perform the duties devolving upon the Attorney General.

I believe in the enforcement of the laws, that there can be no respect for a law that is not enforced with strict impartiality, and that the success or failure of our government will depend upon the manner in which our laws are enforced. No Republican form of Government can long endure where the laws are not respected and obeyed.

I am and always have been a Republican, and I believe in the principles of that party, and in seeking the Republican nomination for the high office of Attorney General of the State of Illinois. I do so not as the candidate of any faction, but as a candidate seeking the suffrage of all the members of that party upon a platform of law enforcement.

If nominated and elected to the office, I will devote my entire time and attention to its duties and to the best of my ability see that the laws are served and the high standards of that office maintained.

Infantile Paralysis Epidemic Meningitis Compels Quarantine

The neighborhood on Columbus Avenue, north of St. Charles road was quite generally quarantined owing to a number of families there having been exposed to infantile paralysis. The Finns, the Reynolds, the Levys, the Camells and Costello are in quarantine. The infant son of R. E. Rogers of Columbus street developed infantile paralysis a week ago and a case of epidemic meningitis has appeared in the Ford family on Eliza street. The latter patient is now quite recovered, though not yet out of quarantine, while the case of infantile paralysis is progressing satisfactorily.

Dr. James, the health officer, expresses great appreciation of the splendid support given him by the families in quarantine for the way in which they have adhered to quarantine in spite of great inconveniences.

American Legion Holds Convention Joliet, Aug 29-30

The Drum and Eagle Corps of the American Legion Lombard Chapter will attend the state convention at Joliet August 29-30. There will be about 50 members of the post attending. It is expected about 150 delegates from Du Page County will be in the parade on a unit with drum and hope corps from practically all the cities of the town marching with a band. Reports continue.

The parade is at three o'clock tonight through town and back to town will be a number of large floats. The parade will be in the morning. The parade will be in the morning. The parade will be in the morning. The parade will be in the morning.

Lions Club Luncheon Meeting Endorses Library

The usual Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Lions club was held at the Home Club, Aug. 23 with a very good attendance. The civic committee was instructed to get circulars and literature necessary to help boost the library and park proposition. Harry Elkins was guest of Herbert Shaskley at the luncheon.

Intruder Routed From Tully Home on Meyers Road

The police responded to a telephone call at midnight August 19, from the home of George Tully on Meyers road and Charles Court to the effect that a man had been in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Tully had just come home from Chicago and when Mrs. Tully went into her bedroom and found lights she saw a man standing in the middle of the room smoking a cigarette or cigar. On catching sight of her she was so frightened she ran out of a window to the street which had been previously taken care of by the police. The intruder was not seen again and he had been previously taken care of by the police. The Tullys have a property which has been divided into two lots. The intruder was not seen again and he had been previously taken care of by the police.

Lombard Terrace Started

On Monday last, under the most favorable auspices of breeze and sunshine, the beautiful subdivision of Lombard Terrace, was dedicated to the cause of the Chicago Federation of Labor. The ceremony of turning the first earth for the model home, to be built there by the Chicago Federation of Labor, was enacted. The rolling country stretching round about, with two or three hay stacks still to be seen was at its loveliest, and the crowds gathered to witness the program of dedication were loud in their praises of the fitness of this section for homesites.

As announced in our columns last week this subdivision is to be developed by Frank A. Mulholland and his company and it was officially opened for earth on the site where the model home is to be built by the Chicago Federation of Labor, through allied business firms.

Autos began peering into Lombard before noon bringing hundreds of people from out of town who awaited on the subdivision the arrival of the famous movie camera men, representatives of the Mulholland company, officials of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and radio stars. The popular comedy singers and dancers who played over WCPFL, May and June, had been invited to turn the first spadeful of earth, and the "Grand Old Man of Labor" Mr. John Filpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, gave the address of the day. The camera men at once set into action and Mr. Lindquist, business manager of WCPFL was introduced as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Lindquist prefaced his introduction of the speakers by voicing the sentiment that the project being begun here in Lombard in the development would go down in the history of the radio world and that it would also mark an important epoch in the development of Lombard. He thereupon called upon Mr. Fred Mausel, the mayor, for a few words.

Mr. Mausel responded as follows: "Perhaps this is the first time I have had the pleasure of speaking to a good many of you, but it gives me great pleasure to have this opportunity. The Chicago Federation of Labor has selected this site for its model home, which has been a very wise thing to do. We perhaps haven't every sort of improvement to be had but we do feel satisfied we have the best sort of improvement in any town west of Chicago. What we have done we have done well and we hope the Chicago Federation of Labor will have a big success with its venture."

New Minister Preaches at First Church

Rev. Robert James Watson at present pastor of the Congregational church at Princeton, Ill., will preach at the First Church in Lombard next Sunday, Aug. 28, at 11 a. m. Mr. Watson comes as a possible candidate for the pastorate of the church and is highly recommended.

Mother's Club to Have Bunco Party

The Lombard Mother's club will give a card and bunco party Wednesday afternoon, August 31, at two o'clock, at the Home club. The proceeds from this party will go to the kindergarten fund.

Reckless Driver Arrested

Milton Inkster of Bloomingdale, was arrested on August 19 for reckless driving through the business district of Lombard. The less overlooking of careless and reckless driving that is done, the safer for the public.

Fire Call Puzzles Bess

The fire whistle blew at five o'clock Monday last and brought out the fire department on the first alarm. The trouble was someone was smoking out bees on the Shackley place, corner 2nd avenue and North street. When the bees were taken to the fire department and left on the fire department. No other harm was done.

The Voice

Music is the best voice does not require novelty...

In my article in last week's issue I gave some pointers in breathing for vocal training...

ending by raising half a tone for example from C to sharp and so on...

The pure and true way of singing is the open form. The breath forces the tone through the throat forward in the mouth...

I am giving you these few pointers so if you are interested in singing...

I have heard and seen singers stand with their eyes shut and in taking their high notes they would form the mouth in the most painful position...

longue, place the tip of the tongue against your lower teeth. I mean by that that your tongue must be flexible and not rigid...

I use the words "Ho, Ho, Ho, Ho, Ho" and "O, O, O, O, O, O, O, O, O, O" for my vocal students to practice during the day without vocalizing and find them very good.

Do not sit down to the piano while singing your exercises, be free and at ease and thoroughly relaxed.

PERSONALS

H. P. Shackley journeyed to Michigan this past week-end to be with Mrs. Shackley on her birthday.

Mrs. Don Vandercook was guest at a bridge party given by Mrs. J. W. Hathaway of Naperville on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ankley and family of Columbine ave are on a two weeks vacation, having gone to Rice Lake, Wis., to visit relatives.

James Floyd, who has been spending some time at the home of Mrs. F. L. Freely on Maple street, was taken to the Swedish Covenant Hospital Sunday last suffering apparently from paralysis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kehnroth accompanied by Mrs. Kehnroth's mother, Mrs. Walters of E. Ash street, have returned from a very enjoyable motor trip to Detroit and other parts of that land of good roads. They spent some days at Monroe visiting relatives.

Mr. E. C. Hooker of West Windsor ave left on Sunday last for a stay in California on his place there. Mr. Hooker is a splendid example of keeping young and independent in spite of the calendar years, and thinks nothing of tripping across the continent frequently by himself.

And have you heard the melodious whistles the children are amusing themselves with this week? A fine example of what whistles might be, still keep people from violence. These toys are being distributed to the kiddies by Buchholz & Sons, 14 S. Park ave., who make their shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Tracey of Denver, Colo., were visitors of the O. J. Roath family this week for several days. Mr. Tracey is a nephew of Mrs.

Roath and with his wife had driven from Denver to Boston on a vacation and stopped off here on the return trip.

Mrs. Frank Collins of Eugenia ave, was hostess on Tuesday to a few ladies who constitute themselves a "mending club" and meet at each other's homes a couple of times a month. Mrs. Joy this week finished talking about "Seventeen" by Booth Tarkington, which has proved most amusing and illuminating on the subject of boys around the age of seventeen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Vandercook sent us a postal card bearing postmark Woodstock, Ontario. Judging from the illustrated side of the card we might well believe they were in Ireland as the O'Connell monument of Glasnevin certainly sends a thrill through the heart of at least one member of this staff. The Vandercooks are motoring, and we know that the eastern provinces of Canada are delightful.

Joseph A. Barnett, father of Mrs. Joseph Hoffmann of So. Grace st., celebrated his 83rd birthday last week at a family gathering. Instead of the customary birthday cake Mr. Barnett elected to have a huge peach pie as that is his favorite in the family of sweets. Many nice gifts were showered upon him and as a birthday gift to himself Mr. Barnett is treating himself to a visit at his old home town in Canton, Ill., which he will spend a week.

Members of Lombard Lodge No. 2098, A. F. & A. M., do not forget that you must make reservations for that trip to Alexandria, Ind., this week, there may not be room in the bus later on and first come first served. Dick is planning on giving us a royal reception so let us fill up a 35 seat bus instead of a 25 seat one. We will leave Lombard Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, September 3rd.

Nigel Collins of Eugenia street returned last week from the Y. M. C. A. camp near Muskegon, Mich. where he has spent six very delightful and profitable weeks. His mother reports that the boys attending this camp not only have a wonderful time in the way of sports and recreation but they are also taught many useful things, so that in reality this camp is equal to a good summer school. Mr. Harold Webb of Lombard is a director of this and Mr. Morgan Williams is one of the instructors. The boys are taught natural history, swimming, first-aid besides all sorts of athletics. Nigel won four ribbons for athletics and a prize, a lovely traveling kit, for first-aid work. Perhaps if more parents knew about this splendid camp and what it has to offer, more boys would be sent.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Menz of White Oaks have received postal cards from ICELAND, sent by Mr. John R. Philip of Chicago. Mr. Philip is the well-known lecturer who has annually entertained the "Noblers" and their ladies at Medinah Temple with illustrated travel talks on Alaska, Yellowstone Park, Glacier National Park, and other places of great natural beauty.

The Spectator has received a most interesting letter from Harold Flint, at present out at the University of California giving an interesting account of activities on the campus and at the air port. We hope to publish this in full next week. In the meantime Harold is escaping having to be up nights with the baby, as the whooping cough is keeping his family in quarantine.

Mrs. Geo. Kinne of West St. Charles road leaves Friday for New York to pay several weeks visit with her daughter, Loreen, who is filling a theatrical engagement this summer in New York. The young folks of Lombard remember Loreen well, as she was formerly a student of Glenbard high, but left in her Junior year to take up singing. So zealously has this young lady "watched her step" that she is making a splendid reputation for herself on the stage.

Mr. Don Vandercook has just returned from his trip to California where he attended the furniture exhibition in San Francisco. Mr. Vandercook spent ten days in that city and reports the furniture exhibit most interesting and promising well for the future design of American furniture. New radio furniture is especially being offered in most attractive and improved styles. From San Francisco Mr. Vandercook went to Hollywood, where his parents reside, for a visit with them.

Music Conservatory Down Town

Soon after Sept. 1 the Illinois Conservatory of Music, conducted by Mrs. Inova Freese at present on Columbus avenue, will remove to 311 Park st. Mrs. Freese will occupy her new studio in the roomy apartment above the Ward real estate office and no doubt her pupils will find this move a more convenient location than the old one.

Death of Prominent Young Lombard Matron

On August 18, Mrs. Maudie Annie Hanson, wife of Raymond Hanson and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Ritchie, passed away at her parents' home, 306 South Erie street, after an illness of three months. Wide sympathy and sorrow are felt for the bereaved family in the untimely loss of this lovely girl, only twenty years old, and with everything worth while to live for. Some three months ago she developed a tumor on the spine. An operation was performed to remove it but paralysis resulted and the most eminent surgeons were unable to be of help. Since their marriage two years ago, the young couple had made their home with the Ritchies and at the time Mrs. Hanson was stricken were packing up and preparing to move into their own house which was just finished on Parkside avenue. They have a little daughter, just a year old. The body was taken by auto to Galesburg, Ill., for interment in the family plot of the family Saturday. Besides her young husband and little daughter, her father and mother, the deceased leaves a sister, Mrs. Stanley D. Tilman, of Elizabeth street.

Public Library Election Getting Attention

The matter of voting on the levying of the necessary tax to insure the upkeep of the proposed new public library is very much in the minds of Lombard citizens these days. The election will be held Saturday, Sept. 10, from 2 to 8 p. m. and the place of election will be, as already announced in our columns, in the office of this paper, 119 St. Charles road for the citizens residing in Precinct No. 1. Precinct No. 2 will vote at John Coleman's store, 315 South Main street. Precinct No. 3 will vote at the barber shop in the building on east side of Meyers road adjacent to the south line of the Aurora-Eglin.

If any one should be expecting to be absent from Lombard on that date he or she may apply to the village clerk for an affidavit blank to be filled out requesting the privilege of voting by proxy. On filing out and returning such an affidavit form to the village clerk they can secure a blank ballot which they may fill out and mail or hand in to the village clerk in a special envelope given them for that purpose.

Some confusion may exist in the minds of some people as to why the library proposition has not been turned over to the village trustees to administer. The reason is, first of all that it was specified that the trustees of the will should put it into execution.

The law as to the establishment of libraries presents really two methods by which it could be accomplished. 1st. The board of trustees can, of its own initiative, levy a tax for library purposes and appoint a board of trustees to administer the same. 2. Where the people vote for a library tax, and it is carried, it becomes an obligation on the part of the village board of trustees to make the library and continue to maintain it year to year until revoked by a vote of the people. This latter method is the more desirable one, as it is permanent as could possibly be had. It is inconceivable that any community having once established a library would ever wish to close it.

The above explanation should not admit of any misunderstanding on the part of any one. The trustees can be assured only on condition that it be permanently maintained, and be only constant depreciation occur in which the necessary tax would be met. It is through a tax that the library can be maintained. Do not make the mistake of thinking that the trustees are going to vote under the terms of the will are going to receive remuneration for such service. They are by no means. Nor will any member who may be elected to serve on the board of directors of the proposed library receive any compensation. They will serve without without pay of any kind.

This paper wishes to make a correction in a statement in last issue to the effect that the rate of this library tax would be one and eight-tenths of a mill. By recent legislation this rate has been reduced to nine-tenths of one mill on the dollar of the present assessed valuation. Even the dullest pencil cannot make the total amount for each individual property owner a very big sum. Figure it out, each man for himself. Would it be possible that a community would let such a small consideration—equivalent to the price of admission to a movie show in many cases—prevent the village from acquiring this opportunity for furthering education in the town? The town gets on the air through all the radio broadcasting stations of the country that it seeks, but it undoubtedly will "be given the air" when it comes to attracting to its confines intelligent people who first must be assured of certain educational advantages for themselves and families.

This from the Boston Transcript: Among the other intelligence tests is that of originating a joke that will make everybody laugh without hurting anybody's feelings.

HISTORY OF DU PAGE COUNTY PUBLISHED IN 1857

Previous to leaving, Selton had privately formed a partnership with H. S. Humphrey, a journeyman printer in his office, to whom he owed a considerable amount, in which he had agreed to sell him half the office...

Mr. Humphrey continued his connection with the paper until April 6, 1852, when he disposed of his interest to Mr. Gershon Martin, who continued the paper two years more in connection with Barnes and Keith...

continued. At present there is but one paper printed in the county. The Spectator, a weekly paper, is published at Naperville, by E. H. Eyer. It is a very respectable sheet and bids fair to rival its predecessors in permanence and usefulness.

Organization of the County, Etc. The law organizing the county was approved February 24th, 1839. The boundaries of the county, as specified in the first section of the act, embraced not only the present limits, but the north half of two townships of Will county.

That no part of the county above described now forming a part of Will county, shall be included within the said county of Du Page, unless the inhabitants now residing in said part of Will county shall by a vote to be given by them at the next August election, decide by a majority of legal voters, that they prefer to have that territory made a part of the said county of Du Page.

A vote of the inhabitants of the two half townships was had at the election in the proviso quoted, and although great exertions were made to produce a different result, the proposition was rejected by one vote.

By the fourth section of the act, Ralph Woodruff, of La Salle county, and H. C. Loomis, of Cook county, were appointed commissioners to locate the county seat, and were to meet at the Precinct House, in Naperville, on the first Monday of June, 1839, or within thirty days thereafter.

There was a proviso to the fourth section as follows: "The said commissioners shall obtain for the county, from the claimant, a quantity of land, not less than three acres, and three thousand dollars, for the purpose of erecting county buildings, which shall be secured to the county commissioners and paid out, under their directions, for the purpose aforesaid."

Naperville was elected as the county seat, and on the 17th day of June, 1839, a quit-claim deed was executed to the county commissioners, conveying all the title one claimant had to the undivided half to the present public square. The county never had title to the other half as a claim.

We might give a further history of the "claim," but as it is foreign to our intentions to state anything more than what is necessary to explain the situation of the county property, we forbear.

was traveling along together on the St. Charles and Chicago wagon road, and when near the residence of Mr. Clabey, one of the brothers Toe became so stupid from the effects of liquor as to be unable to proceed any further, in other words, he was dead drunk, and fell down in the fence corner. The sober brother stopped to move him, and assist him to proceed, and while thus engaged over him, the fellow, it would seem, conceived the fitting moment to have arrived, proceeded to the fence, gathered a fence stake and returning to the two brothers, struck the sober one over the head, and continued to beat him until he was senseless, literally knocking out his brains.

"MIND" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 21.

The Golden Text was from 1 Peter 3: 8, "Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven" (Matthew 5:14-16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Light is a symbol of Mind or Love, Truth, and Love and not a material property of matter. Science reveals only one Mind, and this one shining by its own light and governing the universe including man, in perfect harmony" (p. 514).

The Best Village Cement: Civic Unity

North, east, south, west—home is best. The four points of the compass have come of late to mean additions to Lombard, but our still hearts the east part of town referred to as Westmore, but now still hearts the west as that crest, the north as beyond the great Western tracks. The arbitrary lines of division need to be erased, for good and for all, for Lombard is one town. It is true that some of the more recent additions had at one time indulged in some pleasant dreams of going it alone and enjoying a semi-independent existence on the strength of individual characters, but like a lot of other pleasant dreams, they were dissipated at the point. The fact now before us is that the community of Lombard is actually Lombard Village and should function as one unit and not in fractional divisions. The arbitrary lines of division need to be erased, for good and for all, for Lombard is one town. It is true that some of the more recent additions had at one time indulged in some pleasant dreams of going it alone and enjoying a semi-independent existence on the strength of individual characters, but like a lot of other pleasant dreams, they were dissipated at the point. The fact now before us is that the community of Lombard is actually Lombard Village and should function as one unit and not in fractional divisions. The arbitrary lines of division need to be erased, for good and for all, for Lombard is one town. It is true that some of the more recent additions had at one time indulged in some pleasant dreams of going it alone and enjoying a semi-independent existence on the strength of individual characters, but like a lot of other pleasant dreams, they were dissipated at the point. The fact now before us is that the community of Lombard is actually Lombard Village and should function as one unit and not in fractional divisions. The arbitrary lines of division need to be erased, for good and for all, for Lombard is one town.

The older part of the village, with its roots deep down in the soil of the past, can profit by knowing the people in the newer sections, and the new people, by affiniting with our civic activities, clubs and churches, will enjoy knowing the older folk. Hitherto there has been no common center for the bringing together of the residents in the newly acquired sections, a place where they could come and feel they had an objective and interest. There has been absolutely nothing of cultural nature to attract the people, likewise nothing of a recreational inducement to get acquainted. But all that will come. With the establishment of the proposed new public library and the park adjoining, which will be voted on Sept. 10, there will enter into the community a new factor that can be said to be the greatest argument for it. From the standpoint of educational progress, a library is most essential. Schools—and we are proud of their schools in Lombard—are ever constantly trying to improve their methods of educating the young within their walls, but at best academic education must stop after some few years, and it is safe to say a good many of the adult population in this community have had sparse opportunity for furthering their own education since school days. Bear in mind, a community educates as well as its schools. It is a platitude to say that the theoretical education of school and college is not a complete education. True education is a process of one's whole life, a product of experience understood and related by an intelligent mind—not a series of facts and knowledge crammed in from outside. A human being may easily have engrained on him a sort of culture which he can only shake out of in his leisure time, something that he puts on like a suit of clothes, but that education which gives him the sublime culture of exercising his vocation, his trade, his profession, as though it were a line art—and it is a line art if dignified by a cultivated mind and heart—that education comes gradually all along the years of one's life, and is factored in by contact with the ideas and feelings of other minds who have sought a wider meaning of that strange and often perplexing thing called human life. These minds speak to us unimpeded from the splendor of a library, without cost or tribute. And isn't it safe to feel that into all the little houses so bravely making a beginning all over the prairies in W—(the printer almost said Westmore)—and all over the south end, these privileges will go? And these little houses in the newer sections, some of them nothing but the best shelters, need not fear that because of their remoteness the rest of Lombard will turn its nose up at them and that they can have no share in contributing to the worth and beauty of this community. They are mistaken if they feel that way. Looking over the pleasant rolling land there, it doesn't take the vision of a prophet to see these tiny, at present ugly, little dwellings converted into things of beauty. Even the nicest of the shacks stick up on an unpromising lot bespeaks courage and pluck which will not rest content until that shack is transformed into a pretty little home. No matter how small the little dwelling, it does not of necessity have to be ugly. A few coats of paint, the planting of some quick growing shrubs and trees, some flower boxes here and there, and in a very short time old mother nature will have thrown over these little humble homes her impartial beautifying magic.

If, of course, our public library will display the usual signs in certain rooms "no talking", but after that project becomes an actuality we should, from sheer urgency to talk and get acquainted, begin to inspect the adjacent teels for that municipal golf course that would do more to cement the extrema cordis of this neighborhood than anything we know of, outside of a municipal swimming pool.

The Mississippi Flood

Special attention of our readers is called to the article entitled, "The Aftermath—Mud and Money," by Will Irwin, appearing in the July Graphic Survey, which we are reprinting because it is decidedly worth reading. Next week we are reprinting another worth while article on the prevention of such disasters by Clifford Pinchot, which is about the sanest thing we have seen in print since the great flood. Watch for it.

Think often will that word, mother, be said the next week or then, when the child sits at the table, eating, and behind some of these reminiscences to the mother, but many of them are going off for the first time. The first step for the mother is the making of new tracks and the things that go under these, some open, some to be left such as sewing for the boys these days will buy for the girls, and no longer for the girls, in state to the shop for everything from shoes to hats. But with the little girls it must be so. These few know and believe that in getting together such as they propose will give many problems as well as solutions. They are all acquainted with the town talk. Whereas standing back like a figure of a glory and calling each other names before he problems Lombard too late due for a big day and as a suggestion let us have.

A THREAT AT HOME DAY
I feel that special days should be deemed to such a cause at least two or three times a year. Business men feel that by a concerted effort the people can be induced to do more buying in their local stores. I have constantly dwelt on this matter and no doubt a good many of you will say it is old stuff. It may be old stuff, but many things that can be called by that name need constant emphasis. It is in all possible an active movement should be started to tell our neighbors why it is to their advantage to buy at home. To do this you must not depend just upon the weekly talks that you have seen in the Spectator to promote such a plan.

If the people of a town want a big town, it is not enough to issue general talk favorable to that idea, meetings and various details must be arranged. A proposition may succeed on that basis, when it would utterly fail flat if left to gentle pushing. The success of our new Village-Hall shows what will be accomplished by the use of the same effect as at all. The program I say, to thoroughly make up each people to the idea of a little more buying at home, we need a

Options
Speaking of options how far are the common folk able to say anything about their most important affairs? Take education. The school system is a thing that most of us do not know anything about. There is a school about it, a school of seven or eight they are sent either to the public or parochial very much as they are chosen.

Options is a word with a large margin to get or take an option implies both a wish and risk. Options in the business world cover free transactions. Anyone with property is free to offer what he owns on option, as is the other man in a trade free to buy the option. So far, so good. But how about our options, if one may use the word, in regard to honor and integrity and civic service for our community? Gov. Len Small supposed he had an option to use state funds when he was treasurer to fill his own pockets. He treats differently when the courts decide that his big option was illegal. He gets off with what may be styled an optional compromise by refunding to the state $650,000. Mr. Henry Ford owns the "Dearborn". It seems official to the management of that organization to define the Jewish race, to publish untrue and offensive matter against a large industrial element of our American people. It is indeed regretful to hear Mr. Ford apologize to the Jews and as far as possible undo the wrong and smoothen down through years by his paper.

There are few religious and moral opinions. What man or woman of us has the chance to choose his own way and his option on the church or on being good or preferring evil on the long run. It is a pity that we do not have a free independent intelligent thinkers are aware. Try it on yourself. How large a part of your present beliefs do you accept in authority, unquestioningly without examination and testing? How few are the exceptions based on first hand proofs and personal experience of their own truth and reality? However, options are life and love and faith and hope are always open.

OBSCURE IN LOMBARD

To The Tourist

Oh traveler that you seek,
Oh beauty you would find,
But beauty lies within the mind,
And heart of man. Forbear to peer
Down distant roads. Beauty is near,
Do you think that in strange lands,
On tropic seas—
Fishes of home and Shore a more fair? More real?
O wanderer when you feel
The breath of beauty in the air,
And touch her garment everywhere,
O restless eye, O tired eyes,
Seeking afar,
That which slumbers in the grass
Beneath your footsteps as you pass
That which is not an instant change,
And dwells in little common things,

South Lombard Improvement Association--South Lombard and Westmore News from a Special Correspondent

The South Lombard Improvement Association held its family basket picnic last Sunday, August 21, 1927 at Lilly Lake. The page County Forest Preserve.

It was a day of the year when all our people gathered their families and picnic baskets for a jolly good time.

The committee in charge are thankful to all for their support and presence at this affair. The attendance showed that their labors were for in vain. Over three hundred were present.

The committee certainly did good work. They saw to it that everyone had a good time. Mother, father and the kiddies were there.

Ice and lemonade, bananas, cookies and hot coffee were served free, also oranges.

Many thanks and compliments look back to the day when with real good prizes for their efforts.

The apple pie eating contest was won by Russell Richardson, and had and had a very good time.

The potato dash for boys of the age between 6 and 9 was won by Paul Hancock, and had a very good time.

The potato relay race of all young married ladies was won by Mrs. Ed Burlewski, first prize a box of silk stockings, Mrs. Anna Serb the second a blouse dress.

The tennis ladies also showed how they could rub. Mrs. Lillian Miller won yet a long summer vacation for her efforts. Oh boy could they run.

The last of all, our men showed they did not forget their efficiency as the busy battle of the year was won by the boys of the year.

A New Car Built for American Use and Sold at an American Price. Open American roads--congested American streets--towering American hills--trails steep with American sand. Oakland engineers had them all in mind when they designed the new All-American Six--when they gave it increase power and never-fading reliability--when they made it a car for the world to admire. It's entirely new--new bodies--new chassis--new engine--and new low prices. New bodies by Fisher--fashionably smart--longer, lower and reflecting the best American traditions of motor car beauty. In the new chassis--new length and strength from a longer, deeper frame--new comfort and high-speed roadability from a longer wheelbase (117") and a lower center of gravity. And the engine--the largest used in any car of Oakland's price! 212 cubic inches displacement--78 1/2 lb. crankshaft--bridge truss crankcase construction for rigidity. Oil, air and gasoline filters, new vacuum-type crankcase ventilation and gasoline pump to the carburetor for economy and peak performance. Oakland's rubber-silencing principle and the Harmonic Balancer to eliminate vibration. Never before such an engine! Prove it yourself at the wheel. All American is outshining about the All-American Six. Come in today--and join the crowd! NEW LOW PRICES 2-DOOR SEDAN $1045
